

Mark Your Calendar for a Virtual MLK Day of Service Forum
Monday, January 18, 2021 at 10 am.

“But I know somehow, that only when it is dark enough can you see the stars.”

Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

For educators around the globe, teaching through a pandemic has been daunting. Even so, stars among us have emerged. In order to showcase and highlight the stellar work of our peers, the New Jersey Collaboration and Partnership Schools (NJCAPS) is delighted to announce a virtual MLK Day of Service: Progress in a Pandemic.

This Day of Service will afford educators an opportunity to enlighten others about their progress in a pandemic as they share classroom success stories.

Planning for the Day of Service is underway. NJCAPS welcomes presentation proposals from educators at all levels (teachers, administrators, professors, etc.). Each presentation should be 10 minutes or less with time built in for Q&A. Individual or group presentations are welcome.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

- Consider submitting presentation proposals by Friday, January 8th, completing the following: Call for Proposals for MLK Day of Service
- Acceptance notifications will be sent by Monday, January 11th
- A list of presentation titles and a virtual link will be sent by Tuesday, January 12th
- Register for this event at: Registration for MLK Day of Service
- Questions can be forwarded to Nancy Norris-Bauer at NorrisN@wpunj.edu